

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE. The European labour law young scholars' section (Stefano Bellomo, José María Miranda Boto)	9
INTRODUCTION (Maciej Łaga, Nicola Gundt)	17
CHAPTER 1. Employee-like worker: Competitive entrepreneur or submissive employee? Reflections on CJEU, C-413/13, FNV Kunsten Informatie (Eva Grosheide, Beryl ter Haar)	21
1. Introduction	21
2. Employee-like worker	23
3. Case C-413/13 and the ruling of the Gerechtshof 's-Gravenhage	25
4. Reflections on the notion of (false) self-employed	32
5. Reflection of the meaning of the CJEU ruling for the Netherlands (conclusions)	39
CHAPTER 2. Statutory minimum wage and subordination. FNV Kunsten Informatie judgment and beyond (CJEU, C-413/13) (Massimiliano Delfino)	41
1. Two cases, one soul. FNV Kunsten Informatie , Consiglio nazionale dei geologi and the issue of statutory minimum wage	41
2. The FNV Kunsten Informatie judgment and recent Italian legislation on 'hetero-organized' employment relationships	44
3. The problem of 'true' self-employed service providers. What is the influence of EU case law on the Italian legal order?	47
CHAPTER 3. The 'Fonship' judgment or the curious incident of the dog in the night-time (CJEU, C-83/13) (Yolanda Maneiro Vázquez, José María Miranda Boto)	49
1. Introduction: Trouble for social Europe arrives by boat	49
2. Working on board and the freedom to provide services: The legitimization of flags of convenience	50
3. The limits of the preliminary ruling	54
4. Was there any hope for a revision of Laval ?	56
5. A small conclusion	59

CHAPTER 4. Less favourable treatment of fixed-term workers (CJEU, C-38/13) (Justyna Świątek-Rudoman, Jakub Szmít)	61
1. Judgment C-38/13	61
2. Fixed-term employment contracts in Poland	65
3. The amendment of the Polish Labour Code	67
4. Conclusions	72
CHAPTER 5. The impact of part-time work on the principle of equality in employment (CJEU, C-527/13) (Emma Rodríguez Rodríguez)	75
1. Introduction	75
2. The principle of equality for men and women in matters of social security: The contribution gaps in part-time work	76
3. Conclusions	81
CHAPTER 6. The eventful journey of reviewing agency work restrictions (CJEU, C 533/13) (Felicia Roşioru, Gábor Kártyás)	83
1. Introduction	83
2. The scope of the obligation arising from Article 4(1) of Directive 2008/104/EC	85
3. The place of Article 4(1) in the philosophy and structure of the Directive on temporary agency work. The Directive's double aim	88
4. The context. Existing restrictions and their justification	92
5. The long journey of the obligation to review prohibitions or restrictions on the use of agency work has come to an end?	95
6. Aftermath of the decision	97
CHAPTER 7. Freedom of establishment and docker regulatory system: A difficult balance (CJEU, C-576/13) (Maria Isabel Ribes Moreno)	101
1. Introduction	101
2. The dockers legal regime in Spain	102
3. Judgment of 11 September 2014, Spain vs Commission , C-576/13, EU:C:2014:2430	106
4. Is the Spanish regulatory system contrary to international and European law?	109
5. Conclusions	111
CHAPTER 8. Atypical work meets typical social security: Do we have to rethink the co-ordination of social security? (CJEU, C-382/13, Franzen e.a. vs Sociale verzekeringsbank) (Nicola Gundt, Daniel Pérez-del Prado)	113
1. The case	113
2. Problems of the lex loci laboris rule	116

3. The perspective of the ‘non-competent’ state	122
4. Concluding remarks	130
CHAPTER 9. Brincat and others vs Malta : Occupational health and safety under the guise of the rights to life and to respect for private and family life (ECHR, 60908/11, 62110/11, 62129/11, 62312/11 and 62338/11) (Ana Cristina Ribeiro Costa)	133
1. Introduction: Background to the case	133
2. Remarks on a remarkable case	135
3. Conclusion: Expansions and approaches	142
CHAPTER 10. Social media in the workplace (Bărbulescu vs Romania , ECHR, 61496/08) (Martin Štefko)	145
1. Introduction	145
2. Constitutional framework	147
3. Labour codes	149
4. Civil codes and public data protection laws	150
5. The statutory duty to work	150
6. Monitoring personal Internet use	152
7. Conclusion	155
CHAPTER 11. Whistleblowing and the case of Heinisch vs Germany (ECHR, 28274/08): The Polish and Portuguese perspectives (David Carvalho Martins, Maciej Łąga)	157
1. Introduction	157
2. The case	159
3. The answer from the ECHR	162
4. International and European law	165
5. National laws: Poland	170
6. National laws: Portugal	174
7. Conclusions	177
CHAPTER 12. Changes in working time arrangements and the right to paid annual leave (Judgment of 11 November 2015, Greenfield , C-219/14, EU:C:2015:745) (Helena Ysàs Molinero, David Gutiérrez Colominas)	179
1. Background: The court’s previous judgments on paid annual leave	179
2. The pro rata temporis principle in the context of paid annual leave	185
3. Impact of the court’s judgement on the Spanish legal system	190
LIST OF AUTHORS	195